Stood Operation Well.

A letter received by relatives from Mr. Frank Matthews, who went to New York to undergo a delicate operation, relates that he stood the operation well, and that his doctors say his progress is most satisfactory. The glands of the throat were operated on. However, another slight operation, he says is necessary, which he will submit to in a few days. The letter was written by Mr. Matthews, and breathed of hope for complete recovery. His friends hope so.

Handsome Testimonial.

New York, Nov. 19.—A handsome testimonial from her many friends is to be presented tomorrow to Mrs. Annie Yeamans, the veteran actress, upon the occasion of her seventy-fifth birthday anniversary. While not as spry as she used to be, Mrs. Yeamans is in good health and says she expects to continue her stage career for many years to come. This season she has a prominent part in "The Echo."

The Prevailing Opinion

Of a trading public is based upon the conduct of a mercantile establishment, regardless of its size or kind. It's the fair treatment you receive that counts. It's the House of Horwits that gives you honest values and good merchandise. Put us to the test. We are willing to stand the verdict of public opinion.

Take This For An Argument

Our advanced ideas are that Furs and Cloaks are always in use during the fall and winter months. Then why wait until winter to get these goods under value? We bought when the thermometer registered in the 90's, and money bought them for 50 cents on the Dollar. Now here is argument: Suppose a Fur is worth wholesale $5.00; the usual merchant gets $10.00 for it. This same Fur cost us $2.50; we sell it for $5.00, and double our money. The customer gets it for a wholesale price, and we get a splendid profit. Our Cloaks and Children's Coats were bought the same way. Suppose you try us?

We Are Proud of Our Shoe Business—It Is a Hummer.

Just received 50 dozen Infants' and Children's Shoes to fill out the winter trade. And they are Shoes with leather, every bit of it, and they fit not unshapely like some Shoes but snug and neat, with lots of room for the toes to wiggle. We make it a point to take back a pair of hurting Shoes. We don't want to sell them. That's business.

Yours Very Truly,

Crippen's Father Dies.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 18.—Myron H. Crippen, the aged father of Dr. Hawley Crippen, under sentence of death in London for the murder of his wife, died today in this city friendless and penniless. His death, due to the infirmities of age, was hastened by grief over his son's crime. The elder Crippen was 80 years of age.

Is Associate Editor.

From a copy of "Tech," a daily school paper printed at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, it is noticed Mr. A. L. Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Myers of this city, and a student at this school, is associate editor. It is quite an honor for a Palestine boy, and one he can bear with dignity?
